1. Following is a legend to sketch of the center of the town of Vyskov (N49-17, E17-00). sketch is based on a German city plan, scale 1:10,000, published in 1943. The numbers below refer to numbers on the overlay, Enclosure A.

3. B-1, 2 Sandrik National Enterprise, Plant 02. This was the former Pazderka private firm which was founded shortly after World War I. The factory had been greatly enlarged after 1948 and was very well equipped. There was more machinery equipment than the installations could reasonably accommodate. The factory produced mainly: tongs, knives and scissors of all kinds, tools for watchmakers, and surgical instruments. The factory produced a large variety of parts stamped out from aluminum, brass and hard steel, the purposes of which were unknown to source; he stated that none of his co-workers knew the destination of the parts. Sheet metals were cut in the plant; the resulting sheets were about two meters long, 1.10 meters wide, from four to five millimeters thick, and were of the shape shown:

The sheets were bent along one side.

they were shipped to a factory in Hlansko (N49-22, E16-14). Sandrik actually helped the factory in Hlansko with the production of these sheets because the capacity of the factory apparently was not sufficient. In 1950 and 1951, parts for measuring instruments for aircraft instrument panels were produced in Sandrik, as well as metal parts used in the production of parachutes. The blueprints concerning this aircraft industry production were labeled "secret" and [redacted] They came from another factory [redacted]

[redacted] Semi-finished products were delivered to the enterprise from Dubnice nad Vahom (N48-58, E18-11), from Ostrava and from other places source could not recall. The enterprise employed about 500 people.

[redacted] there were about 15 Sandrik plants in Czechoslovakia; one was in Moravska Trebova (N49-45, E16-40) and another was in the Varnsdorf (N50-55, E14-37) area.
